The bell tower of the old school is a vivid picture in the mind of everyone who in his childhood, ran to reach the building before the bell ceased ringing and thereby made him late for school. How kind the old bell was! It nearly always rang until he was safely inside.

This tower was the subject of the cover design.

"The old schoolhouse is altered some. Its benches are replaced
By new ones--very like the ones our jackknives had defaced,
But the same old bricks are in the walls: the bell swings to and fro
Its music's just the same, Tom, as fifty years ago."

Foreword

The Staff of the Union for 1951 presents with pride this yearbook for your approval. It was with a great many misgivings that they undertook to make the book larger and with a much costlier binding than had been used in previous years; also, to carry out a theme requiring so much exacting work; but they were given such fine cooperation by the Board of Education, the Faculty, the Student Body, and the Community that the work has been relieved of any shadow of drudgery; rather it has been an interesting, exciting experience to see the book they dreamed up become a reality through their labor.

Since 1951 is the fiftieth graduation held at St. Charles High School, the Staff takes pleasure in recognizing the graduates of other years and dedicating this yearbook to them.

The names of graduates from 1901 to 1924 appear on the following pages. There were no pictures of graduating classes left with the school until 1925. From that date on to 1950, the names and pictures will appear on the division pages of the yearbook.

The first graduation was in 1901 but since there was no graduation in 1909, this year marks the fiftieth graduation.

Mrs. Ward Rodgerson, formerly Harriet Pringerlay, at the time of receiving her 50th-anniversary diploma

The first graduate, Harriet Pringerlay, is now living in Flint. After graduating from high school, she attended normal school and taught school for a few years before marrying Ward Rodgerson. They lived on Bell Avenue in St. Charles for twenty-seven years, and their two sons were graduated from St. Charles high school. Both sons married and settled in Flint, Michigan, where Mrs. Rodgerson also moved soon after the death of her husband in 1919.

Superintendent Myron Reyher will present Mrs. Rodgerson with a 50th-anniversary diploma at graduation time, next June. The Yearbook staff and the class of '51 extend best wishes to her and through her to all the graduates of other years.

Class History

We, as seniors, recall with pleasure our freshman year, 1948. We were properly initiated by the sophomores of 1946 before we were allowed to officially declare ourselves members of the high school.

A barn dance was our first bid for social recognition--naturally we were pleased when it was a success and would gladly have gone in for an active social life if the school administration did not require that the freshmen do more studying than playing; but we were allowed to attend affairs given by the upper classmen.

The sophomore year, 1949, began with the initiation of the freshmen which was a real event for us--remembering our experience of this year before. We gladly gave them a party afterwards to restore friendly relations.

Our Junior year marked a serious interest in our financial situation. We had many activities such as: The Junior Play a comedy "The Brain Storm." The leading members of the cast were: Don Lytle as Willy, Charles McKenna as Inter Willy, and Janice Duquette as Willy's girl friend.

For the J-Hop in the spring, we decorated the gym to represent a garden--it was very beautiful. Elgy Hoover's orchestra supplied the music.

We enjoyed the J-Hop so much and had so many compliments on the decorations that we used it again for the Junior and Senior banquet. It to was a success even if some of the Chinese robes, which we rented for the occasion, did not fit too well. Our last appearance as Juniors was as a guard of honor at commencement exercises.

We began our senior year by studying possible senior-trip folders. Finally, we decided to go by boat from Detroit to Mackinac Island, Chicago, and Holland. The school bus will meet us and bring us home from Holland.

The Christmas Ball proved to be a delightful party which was attended by a nice crowd. Every one had a good time and they all were entranced by the delightful decorations. The music of Gene Mallak was excellent. The party chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Reyher and Mr. and Mrs. McCargar. The party planned by the seniors began at 9:00 o'clock and ended when the band played the final song at 1:00 o'clock.

We are now looking forward to the Senior Prom and of course to graduation which mean caps and gowns and the feeling that we are really grown up at last and High School graduates!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

On this 15th day of March in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-One, we, the class of '51, being of sound mind and memory, and realizing that we shall soon pass from these halls forever as high school students, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament.

First: We direct that all just debts be paid from the fund of good will we leave.

Second: We do hereby give, devise, and bequeath to our successors the following:

1. The love of our teachers.

2. The pictures framed between school windows, of blue sky with the tree tops etched against it, and all the other pictures that they may frame as the days go by.

3. The sound of the wind in the trees and the songs of the birds blended with the barking of dogs and the shouts of children on the play ground.

4. The laughter and fun in the halls when classes pass.

5. The joyful surprise that one feels when he discovers that education is good medicine, and it is fun to learn.

6. The thrilling sense of belonging when one is hailed by classmates as Dorene, Ann or Charles.

7. The happiness that comes when one first learns he can lose himself in a book, express himself in a different language, or find a new and better way of doing things.

8. The ability to appreciate (this must be cherished) the sacrifices made for him by parents, your teachers, and friends.

These things we have held in common and so we pass them on to our successors.

SOME OF OUR ASSETS belong to individual members of the class and they do each one hereby give, devise, and bequeath his or her special asset to some needy Junior as follows:

Betty Allen leaves her ability to receive good marks in government to Peggy Gorman who might be able to use them.

Bill Balmer wills his shy ways to Doris Stevens who is free to use them as she may see fit.

Jim Bixby bequeaths his wolfish nature to Joe Delinisky.

Dorothy Czuba leaves to Nancy Thurston her ability to type and her wish to be cousins someday.

David Davis leaves his tight levis to Dick Grubaugh whose levis aren't exactly form fitting.

Nancy Deegan leaves her pretty locks to Betty Ofstedal.

Irene Dorn leaves her feminine charms to Dorothy Langford.

Janice Duquette leaves her ability to get along with all the teachers to Steve Pistono.

Joyce Fulton wills her beautiful penmanship to Jac Behm. This is done out of compassion for the teachers who must read his papers.

James Gorman leaves his ability to sneak out of government class to any Junior who cares to take the chance.

John Hulien in order to perpetuate his influence in the school, leaves his gift of gab to Orrin Jackson to be used freely whenever Orrin feels the need of it.

Mary Kendall leaves her ability to elude detection when she skips school to any Junior.

Dorene Krause leaves the soda fountain at Hulien's Drug Store to Suzanne Tiedt so that Suzanne can put up her own flirting stand.

LeRoy Louchart wills his favorite saying "Won't someone please help me," to the football players of next year.

James Lutzke bequeaths his physique to Dick Spenser who could make use of it, but would it be good use.

Don Lytle wills his red hair to Orrin Jackson.

Jean May wills her place of Valedictorian to some Junior.

Charles McKenna leaves his yellow buick convertable to Frank Carpenter so that Frank might have a chance with Dorene.

Ann McSweyn bequeaths all the Brant men to Lorraine Urbain.

Eleanor Mendicki wills her natural curly hair to Nancy Tribfelner.

Pat Murphy leaves her excellancy in government to Geraldine Bradford and Betty Bell who say they are just naturally smart.

Bill Palmer bequeaths his seat in the bass section to James Sheltraw.

Shirlie Rappleyea wills her ability to sing to Rita Sanderson.

Carol Rosser wills her ability to receive a diamond in her senior year to any deserving Junior.

Marian Sanderson wills her dignified laugh to Donna Milano.

Sonia Schweizer leaves her ability to talk all through certain classes to William Howell.

Laurel Stotts wills her ability to talk all through Social Living class to some Junior.

Barbara Toskey leaves her ability to type to Arlene Schultz.

Pat Turner bequeaths her happy go lucky ways to Agnes Phelps.

Kenneth Williams leaves all the Chesaning gals to Gale Devereaux.

Elmer Wood leaves his curly hair to Don Kragenbrink.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We, the Senior Class Of Nineteen Fifty-One, by the hand of our president, have hereunto set out hand and affixed our seal, this fifteenth day of March in the Year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-One.

James O. Bixby (SEAL)

Signed, sealed, published and declared as our last Will and Testament by the senior Class of Nineteen Fifty-One in the presence of us who at their request, in their presence, and in the presence of each other, have subscribed our names as witnesses on the day and the year aforesaid.

He thinks the crown not unbecoming--or is he thinking of the crown?

Jim Gorman and Ann McSweyn will be crowned King and Queen of the Library Ball on Saturday, March 17th.

The King and Queen and their court were chosen by the student body of the high school and the crowning will be the floor show of the ball.

The ball is sponsored by the Wednesday Study Club. This club also sponsored the Public Library and the ball was first given to raise money for the library, but grew in popularity until now, it is the outstanding social event of the year.

THE SUPERINTENDENT'S NOTE

To the newspaper and the Yearbook Staffs:

I want to congratulate you and your advisors on a good job well done.

You who have worked on these publications, have felt the joy of creative work; and the utilization of your education in this work should lead to greater growth as students and citizens.

If an institution is to be loved and cherished, it must be known, and there is no better means than the Yearbook for making the community acquainted with the school and the activities of its students.

My best wished go to you, the Alumni, and to the Seniors; may this yearbook recapture for you the care-free hours of your school days and help to perpetuate the friendships you formed then.

Myron H. Reyher, Superintendent.

H. S. CHEERLEADERS IN ANN ARBOR

St. Charles High Cheerleaders June Tiedt, Elizabeth Lytle, Pat Turner, Marriane Greenman, Nancy Reed and Barbara Nowasatko, were among the 2000 from Michigan who went to Ann Arbor, Nov. 11, to attend the 1950 Cheerleaders Clinic.

The cheerleaders were accompanied by Miss Newland, the Physical Education teacher at St. Charles High.

The girls first went to the Sports Building on the campus where Bill Parish, one of the University of Michigan cheerleaders showed them the do's and don'ts of cheerleading. Nancy Reed then went up on the stage to show the group her uniform.

In the afternoon they all went to the Michigan-Indiana game. At the half the 2000 cheerleaders went on the football field where they did some of Michigan's cheers.

On the way home Miss Newland and the girls bought their supper with the money the Student Council had given them. The girls all had an enjoyable trip and they hope to have another chance to attend the clinic next year.

The cheerleaders have their new yellow, turtle-neck, long sleeved, all wool sweaters and those who did cheer leading last year received their letters. They received these in time to be worn for the Cheerleaders picture taken Monday for the Yearbook

Former Donna Langston Killed

Mrs. Seguin, former Donna Langston was killed instantly in Detroit Wednesday evening November 2, when she stepped from the curb into the path of a street car. She was returning to her home from the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in Detroit, where she was employed.

Donna, who spent most of her life in St. Charles, and graduated from St. Charles High School in 1945, was a very popular young woman, and well liked by all who knew her. She worked for many years with the young people of the Methodist Church, in choir work, and was a devote Christian.

She was brought to her home in St. Charles Thursday afternoon and the funeral services were held at the Kendall Funeral Home on Saturday. Rev. J. Charles Dibley officiated. Interment was in Montrose Cemetery.

The students and faculty of St. Charles wish to express their most sincere sympathy to Donna's husband and parents.

Senior Class Planning Trips

The Seniors in planning their trip have again selected one sponsored by the Youth Travel Agency. Which means they will travel on one of the best of the large Great Lakes steamers at one-half the fare charged to the general public after the school trips are over in May. The ship is chartered for high school students and their sponsors only. Each deck and corridor is patrolled day and night either by the sponsors sent by the schools with the students or by the members of the Youth Travel Agency. No liquor of any kind is allowed on the boat or on the student. For any violation of ...rule or any other rule laid ...outh Travel, the studen... ...tion is put off the ... All students ...ected

Students and faculty alike regret that John Anibal, our popular and efficient Agriculture teacher, must leave us at the end of this semester to work for Uncle Sam. Supt. Reyher has twice succeeded in getting an extension of time, but the end of this semester is the longest we can keep him here. He is a graduate of MSC and had begun at St. Charles what should be a brilliant and successful teaching career. Our best wishes go with him as he goes into the army.

STUDENT COUNCIL ATTENDS CONFERENCE

The annual Citizenship Conference sponsored by the University of Michigan was held in Ann Arbor on Nov. 8, and the student governing group of the St. Charles High School was represented by the following students: James Lutzke, Richard Grubaugh, Marlene Browning, Rita Sanderson, and Bruce Biliter.

This is the second time that our student-governing group has been represented in a state-wide conference. It is of great interest and importance to our students.

The High School Principal, Mr. Hugh Slater, drove his car to take the students to Ann Arbor and back.

YEAR BOOK

The yearbook staff consisting of Editor-in-chief, Patricia Ward; Business Manager, Marian Sanderson; Chief Typist, Dorothy Czuba; Proofreader, Jean May; Advertising Manager, Jim Bixby; Sales Manager, Jim Lutzke; Photographer, John Hulien; Art Editor, Bill Palmer; Assistant Art Editor, Irene Dorn; Boy's Sports, David Davis; Girl's Sports, Laurel Stotts was busy all day Monday, November 27, organizing groups and working with the photographer from Powell Studios on pictures for the yearbook. There were approximately 30 group pictures taken and 12 individual pictures.

This yearbook will have a regular binding and will be finished in the school colors, blue and gold, since it is to mark the fiftieth anniversary of graduation day in St. Charles High School. The book will contain the names of all graduates and the year of graduation, also the pictures of all graduates as far back as they have had pictures taken.

The yearbook staff has its contract signed with the lithoprinters, and the dummy is ready to begin perfecting. The work is begun on the section "Our Town," in which the pictures of St. Charles people and their places of business are featured. The staff hopes to make this one of the most interesting sections of the book.

A member of the staff will be in the office of the high school principal at all times during each school day to receive your order or your request or a representative to call. Phone 3541 and ask for the principal's office. At other times call 4741.

The persons and firms already in this section are: F. G. Goodrich; R. Bellenbaum and Co.; Tiedt Oil Company Distributors; Hi-Speed Station; Gould's 5c-$1.00; Vick's Market; Spencer's Dept. Store; Cerva's Grocery; Petoskey Soda Bar; St. Charles Coffee Shop; Kendall Funeral Home; Murphy's Standard Service; St. Charles Public Library; Armstrong's Shoe Store; George Thorsby, Mortician; School and Community Club; and The St. Charles Union.

Coach John Mc Cargar's Bulldogs started the season by tieing Chesaning. We lost to Shepherd 25-0 and Ithaca by one point 14-13. Our next five games we won as follows: Breckenridge 12-6; St. Louis 38-25; Fulton 26-0; Standish 26-7; Chesaning 27-0.

Chesaning was the big game of the year, they had been undefeated in nine games until the Bulldogs knocked them off their throne. The business men celebrated this event by taking the Bulldogs to Lansing for a double-header basketball game followed by a treat dinner.

On December 13, the girls had their first game of the season. They played Hemlock and won 37-33. Bonnie Lux led with 14 and Laurel Stotts had 10 points. The first six were Laurel Stotts, Bonnie Lux, and Peggy Gorman forwards and Dorothy Czuba, Nancy Thurston and Doris Stevens as guards. Everyone was able to play in this game.

December 20, proved to be another good night. St. Charles took Chesaning 24-20. The girls won this game for their coach Miss Newland as a Christmas present.

The team took Merrill 32-23 on January 10, and Laurel Stotts was high. Everyone on the team was able to play and they were still ahead by quite a few points.

On January 18, the girls took Elsie 24-17. Elsie team gave the girls a tough game, because of their good defense.

The girls took their fifth straight victory January 24, from Chesaning. This was their second victory over them. The score was 50-38 the highest scored game of the season.

January 31, St. Charles took Hemlock in a 44-39 victory. This was the closest game the girls played. This game was the only one that St. Charles girls' score fell behind that of their opponents.

Girls'

The team took their 7th victory over Merrill on February 7. The score was 34-24. This was a close game but in the third quarter St. Charles scored 8 points while Merrill scored only one point.

The St. Charles girls won their last and 8th straight game February 14, against Elsie. The score was 28-15. The guards and forwards did outstanding work during the whole season which made possible an undefeated team.

The forwards who played made points in the following order:

Laurel Stotts

The Bulldogs jumped off to a good start in the conference this season by winning four straight and being tied for first place with St. Louis. Then they went into a slump and stood only two out of the next eleven games.

The big game of the year was when the Bulldogs gave first place with St. Louis the only real battle they had won in the conference. St. Charles jumped off to a 14-12 in the first quarter but at the half the St. Louis team led with a score of 28-23. St. Charles lost the game by two points.

AG. CLUB

The purpose of the St. Charles Agriculture Club is to develop appreciation and love of Agriculture, and was formed under the direction of John Anibal who was called into the army at the end of the first semester. With the beginning of the second semester Carl Nelson became the Agriculture teacher and advisor of the Agriculture Club.

The officers of the club are: President, Eugene Wisniewski; Vice President, Norman Kreager; Secretary, Jim Sheltraw; Treasurer, Jim Brownlie; and Reporter, John Giocoletti.

Baseball

The baseball team has an eight-game schedule of which five are conference games. Coach John McCargar says he has a prospective conference-championship team this year. Provided the Sportsman Park is put in condition in time to allow for early training.

Track

Track is not the most popular sport in St. Charles but they will field a team at the time of the conference meet in St. Louis in spite of poor track facilities.

FRUTCHEY BEAN COMPANY

The Frutchey Bean Company of St. Charles features a full feed program of Master Mix Feeds for all farm animals.

You will always receive top prices when selling your beans and grains to the Frutchey Bean Company.

They can also furnish your coal. They feature the Red Pepper and Kentucky coal which comes in lump, egg, and stoker--this coal furnishes the best in heat and is low in ash.

If you are needing field seeds and fertilizer, you can purchase them at the Frutchey Bean Company.

Swan Creek Coalmine

Although this section of Michigan was formerly a coal-mining district, the Swan Creek Mine located just off M47 and about three miles north of the village of St. Charles is the only coal mine now in operation in the State of Michigan.

It employs about thirty-eight men and produces approximately fifteen thousand tons of coal per year. This mine has never had a strike, and last year, when schools in other places were having to close, the Swan Creek Mine supplied enough coal for all the schools in this area.

Art Kendall's voice is the one you will hear when you phone for coal, and you can be sure of prompt courteous service.
